

CSI MEMBERSHIP BENEFITS

CSI is the only organization that brings together owners, architects, specifiers, contractors, manufacturers and product reps to improve their communication with each other!

In CSI you can:

- Earn CEUs while attending one-of-a-kind education programs focused on construction documentation and communication
- Validate your skills through CSI's unique, industry-recognized certificate and certification exams for construction documentation, specifications, contract administration and product representation
- Stay up-to-date on the latest developments in the standards and formats used by the commercial construction community
- Talk shop with experienced construction professionals both inside and outside of your discipline

You'll also gain a network of industry colleagues in more than 140 chapters, and member discounts on a variety of benefits and services.

We are the recognized experts on communication in the commercial construction community, bringing together professionals with a unique blend of skills and experience in addressing the many challenges facing the industry –a benefit not found in one-discipline organizations.
